More Coastweeks Fun for the Whole Family!

Coastal Cleanup Day

September 15th, 9am-12pm

Public cleanup day on our own Sweetwater Marsh National Wildlife Refuge. As a part of the California Coastal Cleanup Day, we will be hosting one of 87 sites state-wide. Participants to the Sweetwater Marsh cleanup site will receive a free reusable tote bag with goodies inside (while supplies last), including a ticket to the Living Coast Discovery Center.

Ages 10 and up. To participate, preregistration is required at www.cleanupday.org. Choose the Sweetwater Marsh cleanup site.

Coastal Connections Lecture Series

Thursdays During Coastweeks, 6:30pm-8:30pm

Local experts on coastal issues and species will share with us each week. Space is limited, so preregistration is required.

Separate guided children activities available upon request for ages 4 – 10.

Members: FREE with preregistration
Non-Members: $10

September 20 - Clapper Rail Comeback! with Charles Gailband of Team Clapper Rail

September 27 - Ocean Friendly Gardens with Susan Krzywicki of Surfrider Foundation

October 4th - Of Skimmers and Sea Turtles with Sheila Madrak and Chris Millow, UCSD Researchers

Coastal Connections Art Workshops

Saturdays During Coastweeks 1pm-3pm

Hands-on fun for the whole family. Travel to a different coastal destination each week with local artist and environmentalist, Teresa Espaniola, to create inspired and functional works of art using marine debris. Themed door prizes will be awarded each week as well as snacks, festive music and getting an up-close and personal encounter with our Discovery Center animals.

Appropriate for age 5 and older. Limited space available, so preregistration is suggested.

September 15th - Japan

Become a master synthetic sushi chef while learning about the effects of the tsunami debris.

September 22nd - Venice, Italy

Come to coastal Venice for a Masked Ball! Make your own beautifully decorated animal mask out of marine debris.

September 29th - Australia

Create the Great Barrier Reef while making your very own animal to take home.

October 6th - California

Come learn about the amazing and diverse ecosystems of the California coast and design your very own underwater forest.

Members: Adults and Children - $17
Non-Members: Adults - $31;
Children - $26

(Admission to the Center Included)

Marsh Monday Kayak Adventures

Take a paddle through the coastal waters of South Bay with a guided naturalist in search of birds, sea turtles and other local coastal wildlife. Great for kids and adults!

Single and tandem kayaks are available for use, and are included in the registration costs. Preregistration is required.

September 17th: 8am-10am
