The Cortez Racing Association presents a fundraiser to benefit the Living Coast Discovery Center, a local nonprofit that provides environmental education on San Diego's coastal resource conservation and instills a respect for nature and wildlife in people of all ages, by providing interactive wildlife learning experiences in a beautiful natural setting on San Diego Bay.

Guests will enjoy exclusive access to the Living Coast Discovery Center and delicious bites from local restaurants. San Diego's own Old Harbor Distilling Co. will be among those providing libations. All proceeds from the event will benefit the Living Coast Discovery Center.

"As sailors who spend large amounts of time on the waters of San Diego Bay and off our coast, the members of Cortez Racing Association are deeply committed to the health and wellbeing of our coastline and bay ecosystems," said Vice Commodore Joe Saad. "The Living Coast Discovery Center does a stellar job in educating the public about the wealth of local life that populates the bay and the coast, the challenges they face, and how you can help. We are delighted to dedicate our annual benefit regatta and dinner to their cause. A healthy bay and coast benefits everybody.”

“I’m grateful for our partnership with Cortez Racing Association and their generosity in once again selecting The Living Coast as the beneficiary of their annual charity regatta,” said Ben Vallejos, Executive Director of the Living Coast Discovery Center.

Tickets are $75 per person, which includes food, one drink ticket per person and a no-host bar, a souvenir photo, and after-hours access to the Living Coast Discovery Center with tour guides and live animal encounters. Click here for tickets.
